

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1883.
A NEW LINE.

L. A. Loomis, H. S. Gile, and others start for Ilwaco this morning to make examination for the route for the proposed narrow gauge railroad. The incorporators are L. A. Loomis, I. W. Case, Jacob Kama, H. S. Gile, and B. A. Seaborg. The intention is to construct and equip a narrow gauge railroad from a point at or near Ilwaco to a point at or near Oysterville, on Shoalwater Bay, and from there to some as yet undetermined point on Gray's Harbor. The line will be twenty-seven miles in length; it is thought the cost will not exceed $60,000 a mile.

The value of this line to Astoria is manifest. Pacific and Chehalis counties are rapidly filling up with a fine class of immigration, men who come to make permanent homes. The trade of that country belongs to Astoria; this road will be a help to obtain and retain it.

A New York special says a subscription paper has been started, headed by $1000 from General Grant, to purchase a $50,000 annuity for General Fremont, which would yield him $7,000 annual income. About $13,000 has been so far subscribed, principally by New Yorkers. The fund is designed as a recognition of Fremont's services in opening Oregon and California to pioneers.

Last Friday's London Times says Gladstone and his colleagues must understand that England will hold them answerable if, through further errors of judgment, Egypt is allowed to relapse into anarchy, aggravated by the passions of religious fanaticism, and the maddening influences of invasion by barbarians from the interior of Africa.

A Cairo telegram from the artist who was with the Hicks Pasha expedition at Khartoum, reports that the first attack of the Egyptian army was successful, and not until the enemy was believed to be routed did Hicks Pasha accept as a guide an emissary of El Mahdi, who led the army in a waterless defile, where it was annihilated.

The latest number of the Nihilist number, the Will of the People, give harrowing details of the sufferings of political prisoners in Peter and Paul fortress, where they are treated like murderers. No distinction is made between men or women, or sick and healthy. Several prisoners have gone mad and committed suicide.

G. P. Linn, of Washington, who was elected to congress in Alaska in 1870, has been suggested by petitions, numerous signed to represent the territory at Washington the coming session and endeavor to obtain some sort of civil government.

Nearly one-half of the interest bearing debt of the United States is held by the national state and savings banks.

The programme for the fourteenth year of this magazine, and the third under the new name, is if anything more interesting and popular than ever. With every new issue, THE CENTURY shows a decided gain in circulation. The new volume begins with November, and, when possible, subscriptions should begin with that issue. The following are some of the features of the coming year:

A New Novel by George W. Cable, author of "Old Creole Days," etc., entitled "Dr. Sevier," a story of New Orleans life, the time being the eve of the late Civil War.

"Life in the Thirteen Colonies," by EDWARD EGLESTON, separate illustrated papers on subjects connected with the early history of this country.

Three Stories by Henry James, of varying lengths, to appear through the year.

The New Astronomy, untechnical articles by Prof. S. P. LANSLEY, describing the most interesting of recent discoveries in the sun and stars.

A Novella by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," etc. A vivid and sparkling story.

The New Era in American Architecture, a series of papers descriptive of the best works of American architects in Public Buildings, City and Country Houses, etc.

To be profoundly illustrated.

A Novella by Robert Grant, author of "Confessions of a Frivolous Girl," etc., entitled "An Average Man," a story of New York.

The Bread-winners, one of the most remarkable novels of the day, to be completed in January.

"Christianity and Wealth," with other essays, by the author of "The Christian League of Connecticut," etc., on the application of Christian morals to the present phases of modern life.

Costing About the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a series of entertaining articles profusely illustrated.

Scenes from the Novellists, HAWTHORNE, GEORGE ELIOT, and CABLE, with authentic drawings.

On the Track of Ulysses, the record of a yacht cruise in the Mediterranean, identifying the route of Ulysses on his return from the Trojan war.

"Gardens in England," extracts from his private journal kept during a trip to Europe in 1887.

The Silverado Squatters," by ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, author of "New Arabian Nights."

There will be papers on outdoor England by JOHN BURROUGHS and others, a beautiful illustrated series on Dante, a number of papers by the eminent French novelist, ALPHONSE DAUDET, articles on art and archeology, by CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER and others, illustrated papers on sports and adventure, short stories by the leading writers, essays on timely subjects, etc., etc.
